Leave IT network security to the experts and get on with running your business

Risk. Every moment your IT network faces attack from increasingly sophisticated methods. Something as seemingly harmless as accessing a social networking site can end badly when an employee inadvertently downloads malicious software through a link. If you experience data loss or downtime from a security breach, you can lose revenue and customer trust, and even face fines. WatchGuard Technologies and our certified managed security services provider (MSSP) partners offer next-generation firewalls,

Subscribe to Expertise.

Through a managed services model similar to your monthly Internet subscription, a WatchGuard security services partner can plan, implement, and monitor security services for your business. Through ongoing training, our security services partners stay informed on the latest threats and protection best practices. You get the latest in industry-leading network security solutions delivered by people who know security.

Predict Network Security Costs.

When you subscribe to managed security services for a predictable monthly fee, you can manage costs as an operating expense. You avoid hiring network security staff or stretching your IT staff too thin.

Enjoy Peace of Mind and Business Continuity.

The following are some of the ways that best-in-class security from WatchGuard delivered by a WatchGuard MSSP can give you peace-of-mind and freedom to run your business:

- WatchGuard products, security service partners, and partner programs continue to attain industry awards and recognition. WatchGuard's only business is security, and industry analysts place us ahead of our competitors in many categories.
- WatchGuard routinely earns top rankings from independent testing agencies across a range of network security categories.
- Robust reporting capabilities give you the assurance that WatchGuard Technologies —and your MSSP—are working to prevent breaches and losses.
- You can outsource your risk and limit your liability. In the event of a data loss or security breach, your WatchGuard MSSP has you covered, because the liability falls to them.

Get Complete Protection.

WatchGuard MSSPs typically offer a range of security protection and services including:

- Developing policies and monitoring for appropriate application usage and web surfing
- Protection from viruses, Trojans, malware, and other exploits
- Firewall protection and secure wireless and remote networking
- Security vulnerability scans
